

A DIFFERENCE.

On Saturday a man will rise,
And eat—then rush away.
To hurry down to work he's wise,
For coming is his pay.

On Sunday morn a man will wake,
With Father Time he'll jest.
In rising lots of time he'll take,
For 'tis his day of rest.

On Monday morn, alas, alack,
A man feels full of shirk,
And yet he's got to hustle back
And buckle down to work.

SUMMER NORMAL SCHOOL

To Be Taught This Year At The Mayslick High School Building
—Superintendent Yancey's Progressive Move.

(Dover News.)

Miss Jessie O. Yancey, County School Superintendent, realizing that the cost of going away to attend the State Normal Schools prevents many teachers and high grade pupils from availing themselves of their advantages, has arranged for a summer term at the Mayslick High School, where teachers and those intending to teach later on may avail themselves of similar advantages right at home.

Competent teachers have been or will be selected for the various departments with a view of "teaching the teachers" along the line of a better and broader education of the masses.

The term will be from June 8th to July 17th. Arrangements have been made for board and lodging for those not living near enough to board at home, at $2.00 per week. The school building is perhaps the most modern and up-to-date in the State.

Mr. H. J. Beachley, who taught the Dover School for two terms and who is now assistant principal of the Minerva High School, will have charge of one of the departments for which he is particularly well fitted.

NEW POLICE SIGNAL SYSTEM

Ten New Alarm Boxes Will Give Instant Contact With Both Police And Fire Departments.

The Maysville Telephone Company has just completed the installation of the new Police Signal System which, as Chief Mackey announces, will be placed in commission on Tuesday morning, April 7th.

The present installation consists of ten Special Central Energy, iron box, weatherproof telephones, which are located in the various places throughout the city. Each of these telephones have been equipped with special loud-ringing gongs so that the Police Department may call out on the lines as well as receive calls.

The wires leading from these bells and telephones terminate on a special Central Energy, Cordless Type, switchboard, which is located in the City Hall, and operated by the Police Department.

Although the system was designed for Police Calls they may also be used for reporting fires. Emergency Keys for access to these telephones and instructions covering the use of same have been placed just over and above each telephone. For the benefit of our readers instructions are as follows:

Break the glass and secure the key. Unlock telephone by pushing key in lock as far as it will go. (Do not try to turn key.)

Remove receiver and place same to the ear.

This automatically signals the Police Operator, who will immediately answer you.

If you are reporting a fire ask for Fire Department.

Turning in a false alarm or tampering with these telephones is punishable by fine and imprisonment.

In a suit in Alabama it was contended that a man working about an air pump was asphyxiated by the air discharged. It was said that an explosion of the lubricating oil in the compressed-air pipes and receiver filled the pump cylinders with noxious gases and caused the man's death.

The farmers of Adams county which lies down along the Ohio River, should have a kindly feeling for mother earth. Half a million dollars was paid them for the 5,000,000 pounds of Burley leaf tobacco, a pretty good average, 10 cents.—Gallipolis Journal.

When we read that a mite of a baby had been sent through the mails by the parcels post, right-side up and unharmed, to (sex unknown) its destination, we thought our parcels post was some pumpkins! Now, we are doubtful, for "Indian Engineering" says "The Postmaster-General of Bengal left for Siliguri on Monday by the Darjeeling mail."—Power.

The Republicans are in high glee over the prospects for a mud-slinging campaign between the Democratic aspirants for the office of United States Senator. In fact the Republican press does not hesitate to "sic" them at each other whenever the opportunity presents itself. General Grant was not so far wrong after all. You know the gist of his remarks, of course.—Carlisle Advocate.

HUGE INCREASE IN NATIONAL DEBTS.

According to the Department of Commerce the total indebtedness of the nations of the world amounts to $42,000,000,000. This represents an increase of 31.2 over the total of $31,225,000,000 in 1902. Commenting on these facts the Wall Street Journal says: "But the disquieting feature is the tendency to pile debt upon debt and pass as much of it on posterity as possible, the present generation meantime to pay interest. But the present day burden of the people is not limited to the interest charge of this huge indebtedness, now amounting to $1,732,000,000 a year; national expenditures, always far in advance of revenue, have since 1900 increased 50 per cent."

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP FAILURE AT BARBERTON, OHIO.

The Barberton, O., water plant is losing city money at the rate of more than $4,000 a year, according to a report made by State Examiner E. V. McGuire.

Besides instances of irregularities are stated in the report as having existed in the department, one of them is that Water Works Clerk H. M. Ralston, although required to give a bond of $2,000, did not do so.

The report stated that the rent accounts were in very bad condition, some of them running for two or three years. Seventeen hundred ledger accounts were kept in a loose leaf ledger. There are no rules governing the department except those made under the old Board of Public Affairs in 1907. A penalty of 5 per cent is supposed to be added to bills that are overdue, according to the report, this penalty was never added. The report alleges that no inspection was ever made of any service connections, the department depending upon the plumbing company which had an agreement with the city to put in all connections, to do proper work.

The report blames the officials of the city for the condition in that, they did not enforce the rule making all applicants for connections apply at the office of the water department for a connection, so that the name, etc., could be entered on the books. It seems that such a connection could be secured by applying to the plumbing company.

A deficiency in the income of the department of $4,175.35 is noted in the report.

The School Board of Cincinnati recently swept away the ban against the marriage of teachers, by approving certain recommendations placing men and women teachers in the schools on the same plane.

SCORE ONE FOR BULL MOOSE JOHNSON.

When Governor Johnson, of California, was confronted by a delegation of industrial workers, known as Kelly's Army, he made a statement which deserves a place in the world of letters.

"For men who want work I have the greatest sympathy," he said, "and I am willing to do everything I can to help them. For the men who won't work—which, I understand, is the principle with the Industrial Workers of the World—I have no sympathy.

"You do not present an unemployed problem. What you are presenting is a particular propaganda and asking the State to assist you in spreading this propaganda. Those are not the actions of unemployed men."

THE COMING DAY OF RECKONING IN MEXICO.

It has been argued by some of the newspapers that Americans who put their money into Mexican investments took their chances and should not complain because fate has been adverse to them. There might be some plausibility in this argument as to American investments in Turkey or China, but as to Mexico it is wholly fallacious, points out the editor of The Engineering and Mining Journal. American investments were not only invited but were courted by the Mexican government. Apropos of this it is interesting to be reminded of the words of Secretary Bayard in 1888, when protesting against certain cases of ill treatment of Americans. He said: "Mexico, in pursuance of a policy of wise development of her material interests, has by numerous legislative acts and executive decrees, invited foreign capitalists, engineers, miners, and business men of skill and enterprise to unite in bringing into the market the great wealth, mineral as well as agricultural, which remains as yet untutilized in her territory, etc.

The claims now on file in the Department of State aggregate a large sum, we understand. Some of them are, no doubt, exaggerated, but to a large extent they are true. The day of reckoning will come some time.—The Engineering and Mining Journal.

LIVING IN GLASS HOUSES.

The man from Punksutawney and the man from Kokomo discussed the Chinese troubles, and the first said, "Don't you know,

I think these Chinese names are queer enough to stop a clock?"

"That's right!" replied another man from fair Cancom-gomoc.

Another man took up the strain; "Now down Showhogan way

And up Ypsilanti we speak it every day.

The names are all uncivilized and heathen in their ring; That's what I told my uncle yesterday in Ishpening."

"Hokokus is my native town," another stranger said;

"And I think all these Chinese names the worst I ever read."

"Quite true," agrees a quiet man; "they're certainly unannny;

That's what my neighbors all assert in Tail Holt, Indianny."

—Baltimore American

NOT NEEDED NOW.

"Schneider, the tailor, is advertising Tariff reduction trousers."

"For the love of Mike, what kind of trousers are they?"

"Pocketless."

RAKING.

MATED.

"But just why do you think you and he are mated so well?" asked the newly engaged girl's intimate friend.

"Oh, my dear," replied the other, dimpling, "we do exactly the same kind of tango!"

RESULTS TELL.

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results In Maysville.

Results tell the tale.

All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Maysville citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had? Mrs. Della Lunsford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, Ky., says: "I attributed my kidney trouble to a strain.

There were sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headache and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy, and in a short time I was suffering from that trouble. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. At night I was restless and always felt tired. I read of a similar case being cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply at Wood &

Son's Drug Store. They relieved me so much from the first that I got another supply and before long I was completely and permanently cured. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of this remedy."

The Mysterious Grave

By Mrs. C. C. Deegan.

Three years ago as a guest of my friend, Mrs. Maxwell, I was at Portsmouth. I was accompanied by a fourteen-year-old granddaughter. One day my hostess, my granddaughter and I took the trolley line for Sciotoville. I was anxious to again visit the scenes of my childhood, and especially to stand by the mysterious grave. I could scarcely realize the many changes I met with on this trip—every turn brought a fresh surprise. The trolley line occupied the old roadway. An immense machine shop stood where once gay picnic parties gathered and danced happy hours away. Munn's Run was no more, and the place where it once meandered through wide-spreading trees was now "Millbrook Park," with a lake and charming buildings for every form of recreation and amusement. We passed a new city, a new "Boston," where fifty years ago were a few widely separated farm houses.

Sciotoville—could it be possible—no longer a village, not even a town, but a thriving city with great business interests. I found it difficult to locate old landmarks. The Price Hotel was gone, not a vestige of it remained. Front Street was gone. The river had encroached to the door-yards of the new remaining houses, and being very high at this time, it was flapping its muddy waters under one corner of the house, where as a child I had lived. I peeped into the side-yard, where the grape arbor had been, and saw, not the harbor and rustic seat as of old, but sights that sadly blurred my precious memory-picture.

When I inquired for names of friends of long ago, people stared, as at Rip Van Winkle, saying: "No such people in town." We went on toward the bridge. Near it was the Farney home, which still retained its wide sweep of park. Surely some of the family would be there—I found the house dilapidated and empty. The Ellison home, across the way, was gone. A new house was there, occupied by strangers. I learned from a lady there that Mrs. Farney had passed away two years ago and the place was for sale; also that a married daughter, Mrs. S., lived somewhere downtown.

The bridge looked natural, so did the banks of the little river. The mountain still towered in majestic grandeur, but—Oh, the graveyard! I stopped for a moment and another of my most treasured memory-pictures was forever blurred. How desolate and forlorn. There was the debris of a once-upon-a-time saw mill just beyond, and piles of old lumber were scattered about, even infringing on the sacred spot. A rude fence separated it from the mountain, and an unsightly mud road intervened. I looked for the mysterious grave, and thought it was gone—but—no, there is the freestone base, but tered, bruised and broken, and almost overgrown with grass and weeds, but where is the railing? Echo answered "where."

We walked on and even the wind as it came softly stepping down the mountain seemed to whisper "forgotten." I found one familiar name that brought to mind the gentle-voiced coroner, "Smith." The grave was near a tree of good size, which mutely testified that he had been long at rest. On the stone was a beautiful etching of a pioneer scene, rather lately made, which spoke of "remembrance," from some one. I bowed reverently at this grave and was glad it was tree-sheltered. We passed on through The Narrows, now a wagon road, and on, 'til there had stood the forest primeval, we saw fields where cattle were feeding. A few stunted ferns grew here and there along the roadway.

Slowly we retraced our steps. We found Mrs. S.—a charming woman, as her mother had been. I remembered her as a lovely babe. She remembered many of the old residents, saying: "They are most all buried in the new cemetery back of town." Yes, she remembered the mysterious grave, and knew of its despoiling. The picturesque spot had retained its beauty through her own days of maidenhood, and was often termed "Lovers' Retreat," and The Narrows were still the favorite walking place for the townspeople.

Several years later a syndicate bought the fine timber behind the mountain. The Narrows were widened into a wagon road. By hugging the mountain closely, curving sharply to the left, they could reach their sawmill without a visible trespass on the graveyard. One day a team of oxen became unruly at the sharp curve and ran straight ahead right into the graveyard and upset their wagon with its load, a heavy log, on the mysterious grave. The railing was broken in pieces. The base was broken somewhat, but retained its position, no one for years had paid any attention to it, and no one knew whose it was, so the mill men had the pieces of railing gathered up and placed inside the base, and nothing was ever said about it. After the "runaway" the rude fence had been built. The mill had years ago closed out and gone, and most every one had forgotten about the circumstances. She had not for years thought of it "till I came with my questions."

What matters to those brave pioneers, those noble, unselfish citizens of the village of long ago, so quietly resting there on the bonny banks of Little Scioto? Forgotten they may be, yet they remain faithful, guarding the stranger sleeping in their midst, 'til Resurrection Morn. The lofty mountain shelters them. The south wind whispers a lullaby as they sweetly sleep, the sleep that knows no waking.

RESULTS TELL

There Can Be No Doubt About the Results In Maysville.

Results tell the tale. All doubt is removed. The testimony of a Maysville citizen can be easily investigated.

What better proof can be had? Mrs. Della Lunsford, 328 E. Front street, Maysville, Ky., says: "I attributed my kidney trouble to a strain. There were sharp, shooting pains through my kidneys and a dragging down feeling through my hips. I had dull headache and dizzy spells and often if I had not caught hold of something for support, I would have fallen. I was in that condition for several years, up one week and in bed the next. I finally began to notice symptoms of dropsy, and in a short time I was suffering from that trouble. My feet began to swell and my hands were at times the same way. At night I was restless and always felt tired. I read of a similar case being cured by Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a supply at Wood & Son's Drug Store. They relieved me so much from the first that I got another supply and before long I was completely and permanently cured. Doan's Kidney Pills saved my life. I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of this remedy."

PASTOR ACCEPTS CALL.

Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 30.—(Special)—The Christian church congregation here has extended a call to the pastorate of the church to the Rev. Clyde Dorsie, of Jacksonville, Ill. The Rev. Dorsie has accepted and will assume his labors May 1st.

A VALUABLE SUGGESTION

Important to Everyone.

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than Nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, annoying bladder troubles, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, sallow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns you that your kidneys require help immediately to avoid more serious trouble.

Many physicians claim that an herbal medicine containing no minerals or opiates has the most healing influence. An ideal herbal compound that has had most remarkable success as a kidney and bladder remedy is Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root by Parcells Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents; also mention the Maysville Daily Public Ledger.

MAYO'S FIGHT FOR LIFE

Entire Floor of Hospital Made Almost a Southern Mansion—Battle Against Death Costs More Than $50,000.

(Times-Star.)

Waging a battle for life that is typical of his career, Col. John C. C. Mayo, wealthy mine and timber operator of Kentucky, is spending a fortune in Cincinnati in his effort to regain health.

The spectacular and sudden rise from a mountain school teacher to a man of great wealth—within 25 years Colonel Mayo amassed a fortune estimated at $20,000,000—is being equalled by his magnificent fight for life.

Colonel Mayo has been in Cincinnati since March 1, receiving treatment for Bright's disease at the Jewish Hospital. In that time it is estimated that he has spent no less than $50,000 to secure every possible advantage against the approach of death, which eminent physicians declare is to be the inevitable result of his affliction.

Don't Lose Hog Profits
Every sane person that lives in one of our hogs is eating up some of your profits—worms breed so fast that before you know there are millions of them and pretty soon the whole drove is infected. Don't feed these parasites—kill them—strip them. Nothing is so quick or as sure as SALOVET. This remarkable medicine will destroy every last worm in your hogs, sheep, and all other stock. It is a wonderful tonic and conditioner, and will positively prevent infection. It goes direct to the worms—kills them—expels them—leaving the animal healthy and in prime condition, so that every ounce of food the animal eats goes to make a profit for you. Costs only 1-12 of a cent per day per head to feed. SALOVET is manufactured by the S. H. Felt Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

The distinguishing air of quality which a first-class Electric Sign gives to a store is the element which gives a sign its greatest value as an advertising medium and investment. The impression it makes is good. It blazes forth to the public that there is business enterprise, merchandise and methods up-to-date. It affects the entire atmosphere of the business district. The stranger says, "It is a live town," and publishes it abroad. It is the Sign of the Times.
